STATES STATUS QUO APPLIES TO FRENCH TUNISIA

Chamberlain Says Any Italian Aggression Be of Grave Concern

SERIOUS VIEW ON DINNER BOYCOTT

Rebuke To Nazi Press
Keeps Germans Invited From Repast

By The Associated Press.

LONDON, Dec. 14.—Prime Minister Chamberlain served notice in the house of commons today that any Italian aggression toward French Tunisia would be a "matter of grave concern" to the British government.

He made the statement in reply to a question whether "undertakings in respect of the status quo in the Mediterranean as embodied in the British-Italian agreement applied to Tunis."

While he spoke, anger grew in parliamentary circles over an unusual Nazi rebuff last night when German diplomats and newspapermen boycotted a dinner at which Chamberlain spoke.

Simultaneously Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, president of the German Reichsbank, arrived in London for economic talks.

Chamberlain declared before commons: That "certainly" the status quo agreement applied to Tunisia.

"We cannot, however," Chamberlain added, "contemplate the possibility of such an attack as suggested in the question put by Mr. Arthur Henderson."

Henderson, a Laborite, had asked whether, "in view of the pact that his majesty's government was a signatory of the 1923 convention affecting British citizens in Tunis, and provisions of the Anglo-Italian agreement (put into force Nov. 16) safeguarding the status quo in the Mediterranean, his majesty's government will represent to the Italian government that aggression against Tunis will not find this country disinterested."

Concern On Boycott.

London diplomatic and political circles took a serious view of the German ambassador's boycott of Chamberlain's speech at a foreign press association dinner here last night, although German officials in Berlin professed not to be greatly disturbed by the incident.

Chamberlain's rebuke to the Nazi press for its "vituperation" of Earl Baldwin, former prime minister—called a "guttersnipe" by a Berlin paper—caused the envoy and other Nazi representatives who knew of it in advance to stay away from the dinner.

Despite Nazi press retorts to Chamberlain, a Berlin foreign office spokesman said the speech did not disturb the general line of appeasement along which Chamberlain and Chancellor Hitler embarked at Munich Sept. 29.

Dr. Schacht, however, had been in London only a few hours before he himself received an indirect rebuff from the executive committee of Earl Baldwin's fund for refugees.

In a statement the committee said it had no intention of discussing with him a reported plan for transferring funds it collected to Germany to facilitate the emigration of German Jews.

Dodges Some Queries.

Chamberlain dodged several supplementary questions pertaining to French-British relations and Italian agitation that began Nov. 30 concerning French territory.

He refused to answer a question by Geoffrey L. Mander, national liberal member, if Britain and France, during recent general staff conversations, had made "necessary arrangements for joint defense."

He also declined to reply to Mander's question: "Is it not important that France should know whether this country is willing to stand by her?"

(On Monday Chamberlain told the house no specific pact obligated Britain to aid France if Italy attacked her. Last night, however, he said: "Our relations with France are so close as to pass beyond mere legal obligations since they are founded on an identity of interest.")

There were cheers and interruptions during Mander's questions.

The Labor party decided to bring a motion of censure during a foreign affairs debate next Monday.

It will move "that this house has no confidence in the foreign policy of his majesty's government."

CONSIDER SPY SITUATION IN THE U. S. AS SERIOUS

Committee Investigator
Is Witness Before
Inquiry Group

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—(P) The house committee investigating un-Americanism was told today the spy situation in the United States constitutes "a very serious menace."

John C. Metcalfe, committee investigator, who spent six months checking up on activities of subversive organizations, told the committee "the real aim of the American Nazi movement is to build up in the United States a spy organization, a potential sabotage machine and a German minority."

Similar efforts are being made in South America, Metcalfe said. In response to questions from Chairman Dies (D-Tex.), the witness said he believed the United States had been placed in "a precarious position" through the efforts of subversive groups to set up sabotage machine. Metcalfe added that besides Germany, other countries which he did not name were engaged in spying activities in the United States.

The witness declared that in the event of war, sabotage plans of the organizations to which he referred could cause great damage "unless the United States government takes militant steps to put an end to the activities of the sabotage machines."

Made Study On Bund.

The youthful investigator, who joined the German-American Bund to study it from the inside, said he had been in frequent touch with army and naval intelligence units, the justice department and police officials in various parts of the country and that information concerning espionage resulting from his own investigation had been turned over to the justice department.

Metcalfe said also he was in possession of a number of leads which he believed would disclose further information on the subject but which could not be followed out because the committee is terminating its work.

Dies instructed Metcalfe to give the leads to the justice department.

George E. Sullivan, a Catholic attorney and author of this city, presented to the committee a 12-point program for combatting un-American activities. He proposed first that congress appropriate "ample funds" for continuation of the committee's work.

His other suggestions included: Prohibition of further immigration until subversive forces are eliminated; delay in consideration of government reorganization measures until "existing subversive forces have been identified and dealt with;" "Unpolluted" freedom of the press; protection of the constitutional right of citizens to bear arms; elimination of subversive propaganda from educational establishments and compulsion of public libraries to label specially and restrict circulation of subversive propaganda.

The committee, meanwhile, began drafting its report to congress which informed persons said would contain specific suggestions for eliminating "subversive activities."

IDEAS BROADEN IN COOPERATION FOR AMERICAS

Interpretations of More
Generous Nature
At Lima, Peru

TO PLAN AGAINST POLITICAL INVASION

Appeal Made To Form
A Pan-American Doctrine In Sessions

By ANDRUE BERDING

LIMA, Peru, Dec. 14.—(P) —An appeal for conversion of the United States' Monroe Doctrine into a Pan-American doctrine for which all American states would be responsible was made today to the Pan-American conference by Luis Lopez de Hesa, foreign minister of Colombia.

During his plea for Colombia's project for a league of American Nations, Lopez de Mesa said that "the Monroe Doctrine now can be widened to embrace all free America in its responsibilities."

The Colombian called attention to the altered attitude of the United States toward its southern neighbors since 1923, when Monroe proclaimed his doctrine.

Broadening Of Ideas

"We are witnessing a wonderful broadening of the ideas of statesmen in the republic to the north," he said.

"We are finding new interpretations of a generous nature on the part of our neighbor to the north."

He also called attention to the pressure of European events and political theories on the Americas, a subject with which the conference is increasingly concerned.

The peace committee also was called on to consider a possible declaration against recognition of territorial gains made by force, a subject of keen interest to the United States.

The plan under consideration would coordinate several existing agreements, and be a declaration against recognition of territory conquered by force, undue pressure or by the threat of force.

It was of special interest since the United States has not recognized Italian conquest of Ethiopia or Japanese conquest of Manchukuo, and the question now is arising whether to recognize the Japanese-sponsored governments in territory taken from China since the oriental war began in 1937.

One United States delegate suggested the new agreement might be made applicable only to the western hemisphere, thus freeing the United States to pursue a policy of political expediency in other parts of the world.

Armed Invasion Remote.

A feeling that European political invasion is the greatest threat to the Americas, meanwhile, gained increasing acceptance among the Latin American delegates.

While the United States has in mind some form of continental defense coordination and several defensive and aggression plans are being considered, most of the delegates concur with the Cuban foreign minister, Juan J. Remos, that there is slight danger of armed invasion.

Remos in a speech last night gave credit to the Monroe doctrine backed by the United States for 115 years. Latin American delegates, though some held the doctrine to be a subterfuge for United States predominance in the Americas, nevertheless conceded they regarded it as a protection from European military might.

Many of the delegates, however, were much concerned with projects to ward off an infiltration of political propaganda and especially from the totalitarian states—Germany, Italy and Japan.

To this end the peace committee already is considering three specific projects from Argentina, Uruguay and Brazil.

Argentina suggested the American republics adopt uniform legislation to prohibit immigrants from participating in government functions of their native country; Uruguay urged a declaration against political and cultural activities by foreign residents; Brazil asked an agreement by which no special minorities rights would be granted large groups of aliens residing in an American nation.

KIWANIS MEETING BE HELD FRIDAY

The meeting of the Kiwanis club, to be held Friday noon this week instead of Thursday, will be at the First M. E. church Fourth street and Osage avenue, members of the committee in charge announced this morning.

The meeting date was changed in order that the club might have as its guest speaker, Arthur E. Bagley, director of the Bureau of Physical Education, Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, New York.

MONEY FOR EMPTY STOCKING PARTY NEEDED AT ONCE

Cash contributions to the Empty Stocking Fund to provide a Christmas party for Sedalia children who otherwise might not have a yuletide treat, are being received at the office of The Sedalia Democrat and Capital. Cash donations from individuals as well as from organizations will be appreciated by the Sedalia Round Table group which is sponsoring the party. An accurate accounting of the money spent will be kept and made public.

The Empty Stocking Party is meeting with hearty approval of civic groups and other organizations. It is imperative that those who propose to make donations do so at once to enable the committee in charge to estimate to what extent financially they can provide the children with a generous Christmas treat.

Send or mail your contribution today in whatever amount you choose. It will be appreciated.

Booster Club, Federate!

Shop Crafts Give $120
The Sedalia Booster Club and Federated Shop Crafts of the Missouri Pacific Shops reported to the Democrat this noon that they had $120 for the Empty Stocking Fund, and not all returns were in from the shopmen. The Supervisors' club sent in $10.00 this afternoon.

Cash, amounting to $48.20 has already been reported at the Sedalia Democrat and Capital office and word has been received that many more organizations and individuals will send in cash contributions within the next day or two.

DONATE WORK FOR HOME FOR SPRYS

A new home is to be built for the Spry family, Twenty-sixth street and Washington avenue, providing that materials will be furnished by some kind-hearted citizens. Work on the building is to be donated by W. A. Hewitt, 511 East Saline street, and Marion Scott, 509 East Jackson street, carpenters.

An appeal for furnishings was made and the response is very gratifying. Miss Rose Anne Dugan, director of the Social Security in Sedalia said today.

Learning of the plight of the Spry family being homeless Mr. Hewitt and Mr. Scott this morning offered their services. Anyone desiring to donate money or materials towards the home can call Miss Dugan at 496 between 8:00 o'clock in the morning and 5:00 o'clock in the afternoon.

RETURN SUSPECTS TO COOPER COUNTY

Lawrence and Howard Nichols, arrested early Tuesday morning by Officer William Couhig for investigation in connection with having in their possession twenty-three chickens, have been returned to Cooper County by Sheriff Clay Groom, to answer to charges of stealing chickens from Price Hawkins, eight miles from Boonville.

The two after lengthy questioning admitted they stole the chickens from Hawkins and had brought them to Sedalia to sell. Formal charges will be placed against the two in Cooper County today.

LIGHTING CONTEST OPENS SUNDAY

The home decoration and light contest, a civic movement sponsored by the Sedalia Garden club to brighten Sedalia for the Christmas season, opens Sunday.

There will be a $10 grand award for the most outstanding home in any class and $5 for the remaining classes. Elaborate displays are not sought, as judging will be on general artistic effect, conforming to the Christmas spirit and originality, fifty per cent for the first, twenty-five per cent for the last two.

Each home entered will be visited and judged on the night of December 21 and home owners in the contest are requested to keep the lights on their display from 7 p. m. until 11 p. m. that night.

The judges, three Marshall women, who have had previous experience in judging similar contests, are: Mrs. R. C. Haynes, Mrs. F. H. Maples and Mrs. W. P. Thomas.

The homes must be within the city limits, and have outside with the exception of the window display classification. The lighting may be on the inside, but must be in plain view of the street, sending out a message of Christmas cheer.

The committee in charge is composed of Miss Dorothy Truitt, Mrs. Guy T. Callender, Mrs. Nolan Bricken, Mrs. George Chambers, Mrs. Joe Williams, Mrs. James N. Keens, Mrs. C. L. Carter. They are working very hard to make Sedalia one of the beauty spots of the nation this Yuletide season.

Entry blanks have been appearing in the Sedalia Democrat and Capital. The names of the winners, and the homes, will appear in the Christmas issue of the Democrat-Capital.

WOMAN AGAIN IN CUSTODY ON A CHARGE OF THEFT

Accused of Taking Money From Man Planning To Buy Farm

By The Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 14.—Mrs. Ethel Ball, 38, a convict's wife who escaped from the custody of state highway patrolmen in Jefferson City, was under arrest anew today on a charge that she stole $550 with which John Bevington, 65, retired farm hand, had planned to buy a farm near Sedalia, Mo.

Bevington said he earned the money in Nebraska and while waiting here Dec. 2 between buses on his way to Sedalia he met Mrs. Ball in a saloon. He told officers he went to her apartment and woke up later to find her and the money gone.

"He stretched the amount," Mrs. Ball was quoted as saying by Police Detectives Robert K. Cole and John Lothridge.

"It was only $325."

The detectives learned Mrs. Ball had taken her two chow dogs to an animal hospital here and traced her through that clue. She first was arrested in the case at Jefferson City while visiting her husband, who is in the Missouri penitentiary. She eluded state highway patrolmen by climbing out the window of a wash room.

Mrs. Ball pleaded not guilty today at her arraignment on a grand larceny charge and was released under $3,000 bond pending her preliminary hearing Dec. 28.

Bevington now is living at the Helping Hand Institute. He said the $550 represented his life's savings.

FRANCE REJECT ANY DEMANDS ON HER TERRITORY

Not Yield An Inch To Any Claims From The Fascists

PLEASED IN SPEECH
OF CHAMBERLAIN

Feel Great Britain Is Ready To Back France
If Attack Made

PARIS, Dec. 14.—(P)—Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet announced today France had informed both Italy and Germany directly that she would never yield an inch of territory in response to Fascist demands.

Bonnet's disclosure was made at a meeting of the chamber of deputies committee on foreign affairs where he was questioned on Italian demands for Tunisia and other Mediterranean lands.

Deputies quoted Bonnet as saying he had told German Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop of the French determination when the Nazi leader visited Paris last week to sign the French-German friendship accord.

He was told, as was Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano by the French ambassador in Rome, that even if it meant war France would not give up any of her empire.

Bonnet quoted Von Ribbentrop as replying Germany was "not interested" in Mediterranean problems although she remained loyal to the Rome-Berlin axis.

Denies Responsibility.

Ciano's response was said to have been that the Italian government denied responsibility for the "spontaneous" demonstrations in the chamber of deputies, newspapers and on the streets demanding French territory and that Premier Mussolini alone could make any such claims formally.

French sources said today Prime Minister Chamberlain's speech before foreign correspondents in London had greatly strengthened Premier Daladier's hand against Italy.

It showed, they declared, that despite the lack of legal obligations Great Britain would back France to the limit if the latter were attacked by Italy in the Mediterranean.

(Chamberlain told the correspondents Britain's "relations with France are so close as to pass beyond mere legal obligations since they are founded on an identity of interest.")

Daladier kept busy trying to hold his right-wing majority together for a test on the 1939 budget which goes before the chamber for debate tomorrow.

The premier's hand was strengthened by continued improvement of the labor situation following his firm method of handling the November 30 general strike and the seamen's strike at Le Havre.

To Convention of Judges.

J. E. Smith, probate judge and Mrs. Smith, and Miss Juanita Young, clerk of the court, will go to Fulton tonight to attend the state convention of probate judges, to be held there Thursday and Friday.

Judge Smith is vice-president of the association and Miss Young is secretary-treasurer.

BURN $49,000 IN SCHOOL BONDS

Forty-nine thousand dollars in school bonds which have been paid and canceled during 1933 were burned in the high school furnace by members of the Sedalia board of education and witnessed by J. E. Van Hoy and two reporters from the Sedalia Democrat-Capital Tuesday night at a meeting of the school board.

In the last eighteen years or since 1920 the bonded indebtedness of the school district has been reduced over $700,000 or from over $1,000,000 to the present $321,000 that the school district is indebted.

The payments for the coming years are as follows: 1939, $52,000; 1940, $52,000; 1941, $49,000; 1942, $51,000; 1943, $53,000; 1944, $15,000; 1945, $16,000; 1946, $16,000; 1947, $17,000.

The Sedalia Negro golden gloves were granted permission to use a room in the Lincoln high school as training quarters.

SONGSTRESS AND MYRL ALDERMAN WED IN NEVADA

Ruth Etting To Altar
While Trial of Former Husband On

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Dec. 14.—(P)—In a swift-moving accompaniment to the trial in Los Angeles of her former husband, Martin Snyder, for attempted murder, Miss Ruth Etting was married here today to Myrl Alderman, former pianist whom Snyder is accused of shooting.

The ceremony took place in the chambers of Judge William Orr, a few minutes after nine o'clock (PST). Immediately after the ceremony the party left for the airport to return to Los Angeles in their chartered plane.

The Rev. C. H. Sloan, who had been called to the courthouse a half hour before, performed the ceremony. A marriage license was issued here this morning to the songstress, and Alderman.

The couple flew here in a chartered plane from Los Angeles. County Clerk Lloyd S. Payne issued the license a few minutes before 9 a. m. (Pacific Coast Time) and the couple left the office immediately saying they planned to have the Rev. C. H. Sloan officiate at the marriage ceremony.

Ruth Etting gave her age at 37, residence Los Angeles and recorded a divorce granted in Chicago Nov. 30, 1937. Alderman gave his age as 30 and said he was divorced in Los Angeles a year ago.

VOCATIONAL TALKS AT S.-C. ASSEMBLY

For the Smith-Cotton junior high school assembly this morning a vocational guidance program was presented in different rooms throughout the school.

Business men of Sedalia came to these rooms and spoke to the students about the work that they were interested in.

The junior high school students had chosen the kind of occupation they were interested in. In choosing a vocation the students were asked to make a detailed analysis of their qualifications, taking into consideration other things besides scholarship. During the last quarter of a century there has been a decided emphasis upon specialization and the students were asked to think of the vocation they would like to take up after finishing their training in high school or college.

The business men and women who were at the school are: Dr. A. L. Walter speaking on medicines; Miss Hazel Palmer, law; Paul Lewis, electricians; Dan Carr, journalism; Elgin Smith, photography; Mrs. E. F. Yancey, music; Eddie Duell, on grocery business; Miss Bettye Field, nursing; Atwell Bohling, secretarial training; Mrs. Florence Thomas, operation of beauty parlors.

In the talks on the various occupation the history job analysis, requirements and working conditions, were all taken into consideration.

This program was sponsored by the vocational education department which is headed by Pinkney Miller.

EDEN CHATS WITH CHIEF JUSTICE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—(P) Anthony Eden chatted today with Chief Justice Hughes and Chairman Pittman (D-Nev.) of the senate foreign relations committee.

The former British foreign secretary visited Hughes at the latter's home about 20 minutes and then saw Pittman at the capitol.

Eden said he had no plans for the afternoon except a luncheon at the home of Sumner Welles, under secretary of state.

REPEAL DEMAND ON PROFITS LEVY MAY BE PRESSED

Signs Increase For A New Battle In Congress On Taxation

VIEWS EXPRESSED BY SENATORS

Industrialists Feel A Removal of "Fear Psychology" Needed

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—(P)—Demands of some business men for complete repeal of the undistributed profits levy increased today the signs of a new congressional battle over taxation.

Several industrialists have testified before a senate committee investigating profit-sharing plans and incentive taxation that removal of the undistributed profits levy would wipe out a "fear psychology" on the part of business and spur industrial expansion.

Observing he had found widespread fear of punitive taxation still exists among business men, Senator Van Nuys (D-Ind.) said he would urge that congress remove entirely this tax, emasculated in the 1938 revenue act which the president permitted to become law without his signature.

The tax, placed on earnings which are not distributed by corporations to their stockholders, was reduced from a maximum penalty of 27 per cent to 2½ per cent by the last congress. President Roosevelt made known his intention of asking the next congress to restore the higher levies.

Norris Gives Views

Senator Norris (Ind-Neb) an administration adherent, said if the president requests revitalization of the tax he will actively support it.

Norris pointed out the levy had been conceived originally to prevent tax evasion by individuals who formed corporations for that sole purpose and insisted that reason alone would be justification for its continuation.

He said he also was opposed to the principle of giving tax reductions to corporations to encourage industrial plant expansion and equipment purchases, unless similar reductions were given to individuals.

Proposals of this nature have been discussed before the committee. Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.), a member, indicated he planned to recommend to the senate finance committee some amendments to the revenue act which would put incentive taxation into effect.

On the other hand, Senator Herring (D-Iowa), said he did not see how incentive taxation could be made applicable on a general basis to encourage either plant expansion or the introduction of profit sharing plans into business.

CONVENTION BY RELIGIOUS COUNCIL

The Pettis County Council of Religious Education is holding its annual convention at the Broadway Presbyterian church here today. Forty-five city and county churches are participating.

H. W. Becker, St. Louis, secretary of the Missouri Sunday School Council, is one of those present. Mrs. H. L. Hill, president of the county organization is presiding.

Prof. Bibb, of the Missouri Valley college, Marshall, and George Diemer, president of the State Teachers College, at Warrensburg, were speakers this morning.

There will be a banquet in the service room of the church at 6:30 o'clock tonight, followed by a talk by Mr. Becker and the presentation of the play "He Is Here," by a group of Pettis countians.

Democratic Club Meets

The Young Democratic Club of Pettis County held a meeting at the assembly room of the court house Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock. The session was a short one in which routine business was discussed.

RABBIT SUPPLY SHOULD BE PROTECTED IN MISSOURI

Years ago gas was plentiful in Pennsylvania. So much so that pipe lines were allowed to belch forth flames night and day lighting city streets. Communities wasted it, industries wasted it, and now there is a scarcity of this natural resource. Rabbit hunting was good, also. But hunters were not satisfied to supply their needs, so they trapped rabbits wholesale and shipped the meat out of the state for commercial purposes. Years later laws were passed to protect this rapidly depleting game supply. But it was too late. Despite the rapidity with which rabbits are supposed to multiply, rabbit hunting is not the sport it once used to be in Pennsylvania. Other states have suffered similarly.

Some fine day Missourians will awake to the fact that rabbit hunting is a lost sport. Trapping bunnies and shipping to eastern markets where the supply is limited is temporarily profitable, but it can't last. Experiences of other states should be a warning. The state's conservation commission needs support of public sentiment to protect Missouri's rabbit supply by inaugurating proper restrictions against the wholesale trapping. Moderation in everything is good philosophy. It applies to rabbit hunting.

PHILADELPHIA'S INCOME TAX

Hard-pressed cities casting about for new revenue may profit from the heavy-going experienced by Philadelphia's new one and one-half per cent income tax.

Faced with the problem of raising $26,000,000 additional income to balance the 1939 municipal budget, Philadelphia's councilmen voted the income levy and then thought better of it in the face of overwhelming public protest.

Most any new tax is going to be unpopular and certainly it would seem that many municipalities will have to "haul off and pass a miracle" to make both ends meet, but the need for new revenues should not drive legislators to any hasty action aimed at John Q. Public's already tax-depleted wallet.

A local income tax doesn't seem to be the answer.

—WITH A FLOY, FLOY

Not the least of the indignities endured by the American cop is the appellation "flat foot."

But now it appears that the implied reflection is unfounded—even if he has flat feet.

Three Newark, N. J., Negroes asked the police department there to waive its ban on flat feet so that they might take the examination for police recruits. To support their plea they brought along a star sprinter and twice-winner of the national pentathlon, Eulace Peacock. Peacock's flat feet were flat as pancakes.

• SO THEY SAY

I didn't think it was worth waking daddy up for.—Six-year-old Mary Lou McAllister, who let her fireman father sleep while she put out a bed fire.

If I had known I wouldn't have eaten those pancakes.—H. F. Brunn of Kansas City, whose wife forgot to tell him she missed a wire out of her batter beater.

The winter of its discontent is coming to a close.—Ex-brain trustor Raymond Moley referring to American business at the New York Congress of American Industry.

GO EASY ON INDICTING NATIONS AS A WHOLE

Edmund Burke remarked a long time ago that you can't indict a whole nation. His remark is worth keeping in mind today, when the temptation to do exactly that is sometimes almost irresistible.

It is hard enough to sum up the character of one man, if for no other reason than that most of us are a mixture of two or three or more distinct personalities. At times we are swell folks, and at times we are pretty much akin to the people whom society has to put behind bars. And if individuals can present contradictory traits, how much more is that true of whole nations?

Science Service points out that if large numbers of refugee Jews from Germany are to be settled in Tanganyika Territory—where plenty of fertile land is available—the menace of the tsetse fly, carrier of sleeping sickness, will have to be met.

It can be met in various ways. Proper clearing of the land will help to keep the insects under control. Care in choosing homesites will also be a help. Most important of all, is the fact that a specific drug for the cure of African sleeping sickness exists.

And here is the interesting part. This drug is a pre-war German invention. Known as Bayer 205, it was developed by German chemists on the basis of researches made by Germany's famous medical scientist, Dr. Paul Ehrlich—a Jew.

It would be highly ironic, of course, if Jews driven from Germany were to be settled in a former German colony and protected against disease by a German drug which owes its existence to the genius of a German Jew. But that isn't the point just now. The point is that if you try to define the "real" Germany, you have to take every step of that complicated equation into account.

Biographers have spent a good deal of time trying to get at the real essence of great men—trying, for instance, to define the "real Lincoln." And they always wind up by finding a mixture. The "real Lincoln," for example, was both the Lincoln who wrote the Gettysburg Address and the small-town lawyer who liked to tell somewhat off-color stories, the crafty prairie politician and the statesman of the second inaugural. Good and bad, shoddy and sterling, were inextricably mixed in him as in all other men.

And the same is true of nations. The "real Germany" is the Germany that persecutes Jews—and the Germany that provided the world with a great weapon against death. It is Ehlich as well as Hitler, the victims as well as the oppressors, the givers of gifts to mankind as well as tyrants.

Which is something very much worth remembering in these trying days. We must hate wrong—but not the nations from which wrong comes, for much good also comes from them.

I want her to die in my arms.—Louise Lewis of New York referring to her younger sister who may die if an operation is or is not performed.

WASHINGTON—Friends of Harry Hopkins claim they have uncovered the real source of the hotly disputed remark attributed to him, "We will tax and tax, and spend and spend, and elect and elect."

Arthur Krock, able Washington correspondent of The New York Times, charged the Relief Administrator with making the statement at a racetrack. Hopkins wrote a letter to The Times denying authorship and demanding that Krock reveal his source. Krock refused, saying he was pledged to secrecy, but insisted that the informant was reliable.

Now intimates of Hopkins say the original author of the statement was Berney Baruch, millionaire New York financier and bitter secret foe of Hopkins; also that General Hugh Johnson, ex-NRA boss and one-time business associate of Baruch, publicly quoted Baruch as having said it.

As their proof, Hopkins' friends cite a speech made by Johnson September 13, 1933, at a Merchants Association banquet in New York, in which he said, "Some months ago one of our greatest liberal statesmen, Bernard Baruch, said in a speech advising action, something like this—'Tax, tax everybody for everything—spend, spend for re-employment.'"

Washington Merry-Go-Round—Washington is not the only place where the Government maintains a Merry-Go-Round.

Governor C. S. Ridley of the Canal Zone says in his annual report: "At Farfan Beach, in addition to numerous improvements,

Spanish War

Decision of the United States to propose a settlement of the Spanish Civil War by Pan-American countries is the first move made by the New Deal independent of the Chamberlain government in many months.

The strategy was mapped by the American delegation to the Pan-American Conference before Cordell Hull left for Lima. Word also was communicated to London and Paris well in advance of the conference opening.

At first, diplomatic representatives of European democracies were inclined to belittle the power of Spanish-American countries to help settle such a bitter battle. Later, however, they realized that the psychological effect of the American proposal would be a telling blow against Fascist-Nazi dictators.

The proposal may not get very far, but at least it will show the definite interest of the USA in restoring peace in Spain.

Lady Representative

Miss Jessie Sumner will cause a sharp drop in the average age of the lady members of Congress. Mrs. Mary Norton of New Jersey is 68, Mrs. Caroline O'Day of New York is 63, and Mrs. Edith Nourse Rogers of Massachusetts is 57.

But Miss Sumner, Republican, of Illinois is only 39.

Yet she has been around. She graduated at Smith College, studied law at Oxford, England, opened a law office in Chicago, and worked for the Chase National Bank in New York on income tax and trust cases.

Then she went back to Iroquois County, Illinois, and became a County Judge.

The lady is modest withal. She wrote a letter to Washington, in advance of her coming, saying, "I'm afraid that you will shortly discover that I am not a very sparkling person."

Whether New Dealers like it or not, the sure of WPA is going to be thrust on them immediately Congress opens. This is because funds of WPA will be exhausted February 15, and in order to obtain a new appropriation by that time Roosevelt will have to send a message to Congress as soon as it convenes.

To prepare for this message, Roosevelt already has received three sets of recommendations from his advisers. They are split into three groups.

Group 1 urges drastic slashing of relief expenditures. They want the jobless problem thrown back on States and local communities, with the Federal Government granting only a small dole.

Group 2 wants the Government to take over the entire unemployment problem by providing jobs for all, instead of a portion, of the idle. This group advocates a $1,500,000,000 deficiency appropriation.

Group 3 stands between the other two. It opposes Group 2 on the ground that the Government can't carry the entire relief load and any such attempt might upset the whole work-relief program. It also opposes Group 1 on the ground that State relief plus a meagre dole would have disastrous economic effects.

The third groupers argue that if the present rate of business recovery is to be continued into the spring, there must be a backlog of WPA expenditures. Their position is that WPA serves not only as a means of taking care of jobless, but also as an economic stabilizer. If its funds are drastically cut, there will be a repetition of the 1937 business nose-dive.

The middle-of-the-roads are urging on Roosevelt a deficiency appropriation of $700,000,000.

They arrive at this figure from reports of private analysts, confirmed by government experts, on what the economic picture is likely to be next spring. This picture, they predict, will be as follows:

Industrial and agricultural activity will approach that of the spring of 1937, when approximately 9,000,000 were unemployed and there were 2,500,000 on WPA rolls. The current relief load is slightly over 3,000,000.

WPA costs average $61 per month per man, divided $53 for labor, $6.50 for materials and $1.50 for administrative costs. On this basis a roll of $2,500,000 for four and a half months, February 15 to July 1, will require $700,000,000.

Roosevelt's answer to this tough problem still is unframed. He has reached no decision.

OFFICERS ELECTED BY CROWN DRUG

At the annual meeting of stockholders of Crown Drug Company, the following directors were elected to serve for the ensuing year: T. L. Evans, C. C. Payne, Byron T. Shutz, C. N. Seidlitz, C. E. Lombardi, J. Gates Williams.

Immediately following the stockholders' meeting, a directors' meeting was held, at which T. L. Evans was again elected president; C. C. Payne, vice president; H. I. Schwimmer, secretary; J. H. Schuler, treasurer; J. Dora, assistant secretary and J. E. Mitchell, assistant treasurer.

The preferred dividend of 43 1/2c a share, due February 15, 1939, was declared to be paid on February 15, 1939 to stockholders of record February 10, 1939.

• SERIAL STORY LOVERS AWEIGH

BY BETTY WALLACE
COPYRIGHT, 1938 NEA SERVICE, INC.

CAST OF CHARACTERS

JUDY ALCOFF—admiral's daughter. She faced a choice between two navy sailors.

DWIGHT CAMPBELL—ambitious lieutenant. He faced a choice between his wife and duty.

JACK HANLEY—flying sailor. He faced a test of a patient love.

MARVEL HASTINGS—navy wife. She faced the test of being a good sailor.

Yesterday: Judy feels guilty talking with Dwight in her car. Then another automobile approaches—it is Marvel's. Marvel leans out, says, "So this is what you're up to."

CHAPTER XXIX

FOR a moment she could only stare at the girl behind the wheel of the other car. Marvel opened her door with slow deliberateness, then came and stood beside Judy's car, looking at Dwight and Judy with a burning directness.

Even in the darkness, Judy could see that Marvel's face was tired, that her hair was not as beautifully waved as usual. She looked as if she'd been driving a long time, as if she'd been crying, too.

"I went to the ship," Marvel said. "You weren't there. I went home. I saw you hadn't even been there since you got back. I called your house, Judy Alcott. I knew he'd be with you. I've been driving for hours. I felt, somehow, that I'd find you like this."

Judy's voice refused to function. But Dwight, after his first surprise, could only say, "I thought you were still on the yacht."

"The yacht!" Her lips twisted. "Do you think it was any fun, after what you'd said to me? And there's something else. Something I—I didn't know before."

Dwight said, "Marvel, don't jump at conclusions. We—I—Judy and I—"

"I suppose you were out here working out some problem in naval engineering!" Marvel said with fine scorn.

NOW Judy's voice returned. She said, "You mustn't get the wrong idea." Her face burned. She tried to explain, but anything she could say would be cheap and untrue, and so she closed her mouth and let Marvel's eyes flick her face. She didn't blame the other girl for being angry. But she wanted passionately for her to understand, and she knew she never would.

Then Marvel said, "I don't intend to stand out here and make a scene. Get in my car, Dwight. Drive to the house. Judy, follow us. I want to speak to you, too."

"Maybe I'd better go home—"

Marvel's eyes snapped. "No. You're not going to sneak out of this. You wouldn't want me to broadcast it over the station that I found you two together, would you? That wouldn't do you any good. Better follow us."

She got into her own car, and Dwight silently followed her. When he had started down the drive, Judy put her clutch in and shifted to first. What did Marvel want with her?

In a few minutes the strange procession stopped in the driveway of the white house. Marvel fumbled in her handbag for the key, handed it to Dwight.

Judy looked around the living room. The dust was thick on the glass tables, and curls of it rolled on the bare floors with their bold patterns. The blinds were drawn, there was a closed, choking airlessness about the house. As if no one had lived in it a long time. Since Marvel had left for Bremer- ton, it had been shut up.

JUDY sat down in one of the low, angled chairs. Marvel lit a cigarette. "Sit down, Dwight," she said.

Then she leaned forward, "We're going to get to the bottom of this thing. I'm not going to do any hysterical accusing, and Dwight, you can just swallow anything you want to say about Cary Tennant. I could have married him long before I ever saw you, and I didn't."

Judy thought, looking at her, that Marvel had never looked so weary. It was as if she were even too tired to put on her usual display of temper. She was simply hard, flint hard. She had a job to do, and she was doing it. For the first time Judy saw the determination of Marvel's jaw, and realized that the businessman who had millions had left his daughter more than money. He had left her an iron will.

Judy thought of Jack, in the white hospital room. What if he could know what was going on here. Jack, who was so happy, so steeped in contentment now that she had promised to marry him.

Marvel was saying "Since I first came to California, Dwight, I knew that you had been carrying on with her. She knew that I knew it, because I told her. I tried to fight it. Maybe I lost. That's what I want to know. Are you going to marry her when I divorce you?"

Judy squirmed at the cold, matter-of-fact question. She cried quickly, "Please, Mrs. Campbell! You don't understand! I'm engaged to Jack Hanley. I—I don't love Dwight. Oh, you're wrong! You're wrong." She pleaded for understanding, her eyes on Marvel's still face. "I'll admit when you first came I was hurt. I—I was foolish. I thought—I thought I cared for Dwight. But now I know better. Oh, I can't begin to tell you, it's all so plain now! There was never anything real between us. It was hard to let go the dream I'd had, don't you see? But that's all it was. A dream."

SUDDENLY, as she watched Marvel's face, from some deep well of intuition inside her, Judy knew that Marvel wasn't as cold as she tried to appear. She was suffering. Her eyes filled with pain, and her hand, holding the cigarette, trembled.

Judy was talking rapidly, trying desperately to explain the nebulous and only half-thought-out emotions which had swamped her. "Dwight didn't ever love me. Even now, he only wanted to see me because he was lonely and hurt. I felt sorry for him. Oh, I could see—I tell you, I could feel—how lost he was. He—he loved you, Mrs. Campbell. It wouldn't have hit him so hard if he didn't. That's the only reason he turned to me. He didn't talk about me—he poured out his woes, and spoke all ways of you!"

And now Judy was weeping softly, into a handkerchief she had hastily extracted from her bag. "This is too big to pretend about. I know the truth now. Jack Hanley is—he's wonderful, he's been so good to me. I've been a sneak—sniffing little fool, keeping him waiting, not knowing my own mind." She raised her eyes, looked straight at Marvel. "I don't belong in this. Only you must believe me. I don't love your husband and he doesn't love me."

Marvel stood up. "Dwight!" she said. There was a sound, as if she sobbed once, and then Dwight's arms were around her. Judy averted her eyes. There was such gladness on Marvel's face, such a stunned, incredulous light in Dwight's eyes.

As Judy walked out of the room she heard Marvel saying, "Dwight, I—I wasn't going to tell you. But I came back, I had to come back, because we're going to have a baby."

ning, with Miss Mary Louise McLaughlin, Miss Elizabeth McLaughlin, Miss Alberta Roach and Mrs. Cline Cain, hostesses.

There were thirty members present.

The Willing Tailors' class sponsored the annual visit of Epworth folks to the county home Sunday, December 11th.

The class prepared Christmas boxes, of good things for each inmate. Mrs. Frank Clark, superintendent of the primary department of the Bible school, took some thirty or more of the children and they furnished an enjoyable program of songs and readings.

The pastor, Rev. R. Emerson Hurd, read the beautiful Christmas story of the shepherd's visit to see the babe, Jesus. Frank Clark made a jolly Santa Claus and distributed the Christmas treat to the pleased inmates.

A song and prayer ended a very worthwhile activity of the "Willing Tailors" class.

Wed 50 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Barnett, among Tipton's finest citizens, celebrated most happily their golden wedding, at their home Monday, December 12. The lovely weather, the variety of useful and thoughtful gifts and the presence of their children, all contributed to the joy of the occasion. At the noon hour, Mr. and Mrs. Barnett were honored with a sumptuous dinner and seated with them were their daughter, Miss Marian Barnett of Kansas City; and the three sons and their families: Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Barnett and son Edgar, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Joe Barnett, and daughter, Jean, of Kansas City; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Barnett, of Wichita, Kansas. One grandson, James Barnett of Kansas City, was unable to attend and a special guest was Rev. William McNeil of the Methodist church.

In the afternoon and evening Mr. and Mrs. Barnett, in simple, friendly style, received their friends and neighbors. The rooms were lovely with baskets and vases of huge yellow mums. After the greetings, friends of the family, who assisted, invited the guests into the dining room, where refreshments were served of individual squares of cake topped with a golden green leaf rose and gold mints and coffee. Here the gifts were also displayed.

Ed Barnett and Miss Martha Pope were married in Unionville in 1888 and of their fifty years of married life, forty-six of them have been spent in Tipton, where they are admired and loved for their place in the towns life as friends, neighbors and church people. Hospitable and kindly, their home is one of the good ones of the community.

Mr. Barnett on July 1, 1937, retired from the service of the Missouri Pacific railroad, which he had served efficiently and painstakingly for forty-seven years and all up and down the road he was noted for his genial manner and the thoroughness of his work.

Mrs. Barnett, as a member of the Methodist church, is active in the missionary society and as a singer. As a member of the Mothers' club, much of the beauty of the park system, sponsored by the club, is due to her, as the head of the park board for some years.

Wed 51 Years

Relatives and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Evans, of Syracuse, to help them celebrate their fifty-first wedding anniversary, December 1.

They were united in marriage December 1, 1887. They have three children, Mrs. George Burford, Jr., Ottumville, Mrs. Edith Jeffress, Bunceton and Charles E. Evans, of the home. They also have six grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Layne, Mr. and Mrs. John Burford, and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. George Burford, Jr., and Walter Wear, all of Ottumville, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Thomas, Mrs. Edith Jeffress, Rube and Lester Thomas, Bunceton, Mr. and Mrs. Earn Wear, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Cramer, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Evans and daughter, Mrs. Lewis Schroeder, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Maganise and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Kendrick, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Williams and son, Mrs. E. H. Phillips, son and daughter, John and Mary Evans, all of Florence.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kanenably and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Porter, Lewis and Betty Young, Miss Marjorie Mosier, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Brunkhorst, Charley Carpenter, Frank and Walter Jeffress, Mr. and Mrs. James Evans and son, Charley, all of Syracuse, and Mrs. McClure of Eldon.

Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. William Woods, on Tuesday afternoon, celebrated their golden wedding at their home, by receiving their friends and relatives in an informal but most pleasant reception. Mrs. Woods' brother and sister-in-law standing with them and other friends and relatives assisting.

The rooms were decorated in vases of golden and white mums with large and small blooms and ferns. After the guests had been greeted, they were ushered into the dining room, where from a charmingly appointed table, service was made of tea and coffee, gold and white sandwiches, gold and white rosebud cakes with the same colors repeated in the accessories.

In the center of the table, covered with a lace cloth was a silver vase of gold roses. At either end was the silver tea and coffee service and Mrs. J. L. Freeman and Mrs. Bess Schroder poured. Mrs. Schroder being a sister of Mrs. Woods from Kansas.

Mr. and Mrs. Woods were presented lovely gifts and received messages and cards, to add to the day. Mr. Woods and Miss Minnie Boggs were married in 1888, at her home near Latham. They have spent their life in and near Tipton and are held in high esteem. For years Mr. Woods engaged in farming, before retiring. Both he and Mrs. Woods are identified with the Christian church and with the social and civic life of the town.

They have five daughters: Mrs. Edith W. Scott, of Kansas City; Mrs. L. L. Woolridge of Los Angeles; Mrs. P. H. Phillips of Oakland, California; Mrs. N. L. Hillman of Clay Center, Kans.; Mrs. C. T. Stephens of Tipton. Only the latter two were present. Mr. and Mrs. Woods have nineteen grandchildren.

OBITUARIES

C. M. Chamberlain

Charles Milton Chamberlain, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Chamberlain, of Union, passed away at their home at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday morning. Death followed a two weeks illness of pneumonia and pleurisy. Charles Milton would have been one year old December 23.

Besides his parents, he is survived by a sister, Martha Ann, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jason Chamberlain, Houstonia, and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Greene, Hughesville.

The funeral services will be conducted at the Hughesville Baptist church Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock, with the Rev. Wesley Payne, of Liberty, officiating.

Palbearers will be Das McClure, James Wiley, Tom Harvey, and Lon Slaton. Flower bearers will be Mrs. Das McClure, Mrs. Leland Beal, Mrs. George E. Callis, Mrs. H. L. Conway, Mrs. F. M. Richardson and Mrs. Lon Slaton.

Mrs. Edward Callis and Mrs. Ray Hunt will sing Braham's "Lullaby" and "Safe in The Arms of Jesus."

Burial will be in High Point cemetery.

Funeral of H. E. Dedrick

Funeral services for Henry E. Dedrick, who passed away suddenly at his home, 1203 East Nineteenth street, last Monday night, were held at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the Gillespie Funeral Home with the Reverend Ralph Emerson Hurd, pastor of the Epworth Methodist Episcopal church, officiating.

Active pall bearers were: Andy J. Knipp, H. S. Barman, E. C. Sunners, S. J. Timborsous, J. M. Bailey, and R. R. Fettes. Honorary pall bearers were: George Snively, C. T. Bell, E. E. Heerman, Chief John J. O'Brien, Robert Reuter, and R. M. Scotten.

Interment in Memorial Park cemetery.

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Neas

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Neas, widow of the late T. D. Neas, died Tuesday night at the home of her brother, William Reed, in Green Ridge.

Mrs. Neas was born January 12, 1865, on a farm six miles south of Sedalia. She was married to Mr. Neas in 1885, and most of her married life had been spent in Lincoln where Mr. Neas operated the telephone exchange. Mr. Neas died in 1925, and two children, Earl 4 and Lulu 5 died of diphtheria in one week.

Mrs. Neas was an active member of the Baptist church and the Rebekah Lodge in Green Ridge.

Funeral services will be held at the William Reed home at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Rev. Dorman Sisk to officiate and assisted by Rev. E. A. Moore assisting. Music will be by a male quartette.

The following friends will serve as pall bearers, Billy Ream, Emmett Boltz, Carl Sims, Will Kendrick, John Palmer and T. J. Pace.

Interment will be in the Green Ridge cemetery.

Matt Christman

Peter Hurley, Fourth street and Grand avenue, will leave this evening for Denver, Colo., called by the death of his brother-in-law, Matt Christman, who died at his home there.

Mr. Christman had been ill four years. He leaves his wife, formerly Elizabeth Hurley, and a son and a daughter, all of Denver.

The Christman family formerly lived in Springfield. They have many friends here who will regret to learn of Mr. Christman's death.

Funeral of Mrs. R. J. Mann

The funeral services for Mrs. Robert J. Mann, who passed away at the family home, 407 East Sixth street, Monday night, were conducted at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the Methodist Episcopal church, South, with the Rev. J. C. English, pastor, officiating.

The following friends served as pallbearers: Dr. Cord Bohling, Geo. S. Young, G. H. Gibson, Edward Mullaley, F. C. Wilhite and P. H. Handley.

The services were largely attended by many friends of the Mann family. A wealth in floral tributes were also sent in memory of Mrs. Mann.

Burial was in Crown Hill cemetery.

Visited In The South

Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Graves, with their son and his wife from Denver, Colo., have just returned from a trip to the south. They visited Little Rock, Ark., Baton Rouge, Louisiana, New Orleans, La., and while there visited Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Woodall, daughter and son-in-law of Mr. G. S. Graves and sister of Mr. O. A. Graves, of Denver, Colo. While in New Orleans they had the pleasure of watching the large freight vessels come in from South America, with their cargo of coffee and bananas. On the return trip they visited Jackson, Miss., and Memphis, Tenn.

Christmas Party By Women Democrats

The Pettis County Women's Democratic club had a Christmas party at Kueck's Tavern last evening. A large crowd was in attendance. The party was in honor of the retiring president, Mrs. Henry Dickman and the new president Mrs. W. B. Rissler. Mrs. Dickman was presented a gift from the club by Mrs. R. T. Phelan, vice president of the club.

A program was given, introduced by Mrs. Herman Myers. A dance "The Jitter Bug" was given by Miss Carolyn Carter, accompanied by Mrs. Brown. A violin solo by Annabelle Hugelman, accompanied by Vivagene Wheeler; a saxophone solo by J. T. Thompson, accompanied by Mae Moser; a vocal solo by Mrs. Ed Gasperson, also accompanied by Mae Moser.

Songs were sung by the entire group of ladies present.

On exchange of gifts was a feature of the evening and refreshments were served at a late hour.

CHRISTMAS PARTY BY CREDIT GROUP

The Sedalia Retail Credit Association held its annual Christmas party at the Bothwell Hotel at noon today. Claude Boul, president, in charge of the business session and Clint Davis, program chairman.

There were a number of songs and carols by the girls octette of Smith-Cotton high school, directed by Burney D. Morris.

Santa Claus, in the person of Hugo Sparr, was a guest and distributed gifts and toys to each member. After considerable fun and merrymaking with the gifts they were all placed back in a box and sent to the Empty Stocking committee for the community party December 24. Christmas candy favors were presented each guest by Miss Vivian Denny.

One member whose gift was a doll, wanted to take it home to a baby girl in his home and tendered the chairman twice the actual cost of the gift, which was accepted.

The committee in charge of the arrangements was composed of I. H. Reed, chairman; Claude Boul, Miss Catherine Smith and E. T. Mattingly.

OFFICERS ELECTED BY EASTERN STAR

Sedalia Chapter No. 57, Order of the Eastern Star, met Tuesday night, held a memorial service and the annual election of officers. Mrs. LeRoy Hodges, Past Worthy matron, was in charge of the memorial service and was assisted by Mrs. W. L. Monegan and Miss Marian Smith.

The following officers were elected: Worthy Matron, Mrs. Lucille White; associate matron, Mrs. Viola Coffman; worthy patron, Frank Coffman; assistant patron, Harry Pasley; conductress, Mrs. Frank Wagner; associate conductress, Miss Mary Francis; secretary, Miss May Highleyman; treasurer, Mrs. Theresa Curtis.

JURY STILL OUT IN DAMAGE SUIT

The jurors, who heard evidence in the damage suit filed by L. F. Perry, of Saline county, against Allan Karf, of Kansas City, formerly of Sedalia, adjourned to the jury room about 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, to deliberate, and at a late hour this afternoon had not reached a verdict. They were permitted to go home Monday night, as is customary in civil cases, and reconvened for reconsideration this morning.

A car driven by Karf was in a collision with one driven by Mr. Perry and wife, the latter receiving fatal injuries.

The plaintiff asks for $10,000 for the death of his wife, $5,000 for personal injuries, and $200 for the damage to the car.

Louis Rasse, of Marshall, and Fred F. Wesner, Sedalia, represent the plaintiff and Henry C. Salveter the defendant.

Members of the jury are, R. F. Hyatt, Otto Beyeler, T. M. Foster, H. E. Inch, L. C. Hall, Earl Patterson, Charles Riley, Elza Scott, Rolla Ulmer, Edgar Oelrich, John Newland and Ira DeHaven.

The case opened Monday morning and continued until Tuesday evening.

SCHOOL OF INSTRUCTION FOR CHEVROLET SALESMEN

Representatives from the Chevrolet factory are conducting a school of instruction for salesmen in this district at the Elks club. The school opened Monday and will continue through Friday.

There are about sixteen attending the classes, ten of whom are members of the E. W. Thompson organization in Sedalia, men who are among the younger in point of service.

BI-COUNTY BANKERS GROUP MEETS HERE

Fred H. D'Oenges, manager of the American Bonding Co., and the Fidelity and Deposit Co., of St. Louis and William Ewald, Investment Supervisor and member of the investment committee of the St. Louis Union Trust Co., spoke before the Bi-County Bankers Association at a meeting following a dinner at the Hotel Bothwell at 6:30 Tuesday evening. The Association is composed of bankers of Pettis and Benton Counties.

Mr. Ewald gave an interesting talk on bank bond investments, as did Mr. D'Oenges who spoke on insurance needs of a bank.

Open discussion and questions from the floor were held during the meeting which was the largest in attendance that has been held. Thirty-nine attended the meeting.

William R. Courtney, president, presided.

DISSOLVE ASSEMBLY AFTER DISPUTE

QUITO Ecuador, Dec. 14.—(AP)—President Aurelio Mosquera Narvaez today dissolved the national constituent assembly in a dispute over power to promote an army officer.

Several Leftist deputies were placed in custody and the army was held in readiness for any disorders that might result. There were unconfirmed reports the assembly president, Dr. Arizaga Luque, had fled the country.

The president, announcing he acted with cabinet approval, said new assembly elections would be called immediately.

The dissolution order came after the assembly last night voted 31 to 17 to reject a presidential message which declared unconstitutional the assembly's action in promoting Colonel Luis Larrea Alva to the rank of general.

ALF THOMAS ARRESTED ON STATUTORY CHARGE

Alf Thomas, 58, charged on three warrants with a statutory offense, on complaint of a fourteen year old girl, was arrested this afternoon by Deputy Sheriff Clyde Coppers, and is held in the county jail.

Thomas was arrested on a similar offense, on complaint of another girl some months ago, and was out on bond pending trial at the January term of court.

Never let an actor block or tackle another actor. That one rule administered by Cliff Simpson, U. C. L. A. football coach and technical advisor on "Swing That Cheer," Universal college picture coming Tuesday to the Liberty Theatre, kept injuries at a minimum during filming of football scenes.

When Tom Brown or Robert Wilcox, gridiron rivals in the story, was required to block or tackle a player for a scene, Simpson had one of the U. S. C. or U. C. L. A. college stars who appear in the picture, work with him. "Naturally this policy doesn't guarantee absolute safety," Simpson stated. "But by using a real football player with the actor in each instance, the chances of injury are slight."

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—
Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rain' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. 25 cents. Stubbornly refuse anything else.

RAISING A FAMILY

Local Hero Is Ever a Magnet To Girls Who Get "Crushes"

"Who was it, Violet?" asked Mrs. Brown.

"A young lady to see young Mr. Fred," whispered the maid, although nothing could be heard below. Mrs. Brown knew instantly.

"One of those—?"

Violet nodded. "Yes'm. And as pretty as they come, too."

"What did she say?"

"Oh, not much. She just stepped right in and said she had a message for Mr. Fred and where would she wait? I showed her into the living room and she took off her hat and spun the ring around—and listen, you kin hear it. I told her Mr. Fred wouldn't be here till five o'clock, but she said no matter. She could wait."

"She didn't ask for me?"

"No MA'AM. She'd just as soon you were in Timbuctoo. I kin pick 'em. She's just another of those—"

Sh! Never mind. I think I'll surprise her."

Violet bent double in sudden, silent mirth. She waved a hand helplessly. "That's good, ma'am. You go down and look real grand, the way you kin. Here!" She reached over to the dressing table and picked up a lorgnette on its chain.

Mrs. Brown gave the fat body a loving push. "Why, you bad girl. She's probably scared enough. But I'll find out. I am going to see if Fred is right about the way the girls act. When they can't get him over the telephone they come to the door."

There sat the girl on the sofa, curled up with a fashion magazine on her lap, smoking a cigaret from the silver box. She was small, fair and pretty. Too much make-up, lips over-red for daytime and much eye-shadow.

Mrs. Brown was cordial. "I am terribly afraid Fred won't be in until five or after," she said. "Perhaps, I could give him the message. Fred's 'five' usually means six."

The girl regarded her for some seconds, smiling as coolly as sparkling frost. "I haven't a thing to do and this message is very terribly confidential."

She waited. Mrs. Brown had an errand and went out in the car. She felt that she had to get away from the house. She had to think. Poor Fred. He was so handsome and had such a way with him. Football had made him a hero. But he had to study and catch up. He tried to avoid dates, but how could he? And this girl. He might not even know her. Message. She knew better.

She was right. She returned at six. The girl was gone. Fred looked disgusted. His mother knew now that boys have little chance with girls intent upon getting their men.

But don't let it worry you, mother, as long as you're certain the boy keeps a level head. It is, and probably always will be, the way of a maid with a handsome hero.

STORIES IN STAMPS

Salmon—River Kings

HARDY and important fish is the salmon. It inhabits the north Atlantic, ranging from Hudson Bay, Iceland and northern Europe to Cape Cod and the Bay of Biscay. It enters the major rivers of North America, and where it enters it is king.

Salmon feed mostly on mackerel, herring and sand-eels. It breeds from September to February. The female fish scoops out a trough in the gravelly shallows and, sinking into it, deposits eggs which are fertilized by the male. By adroit strokes of her tail she then covers the eggs, burying them often 12 inches deep. The eggs are about one-fourth inch in diameter, and hatch near the close of winter.

The young fish depend on a large yolk-sac for nourishment for a month or two. After that the fry, scarcely more than an inch long, emerge and swim in the shoals, feeding on bugs. Generally in about two years the salmon is six inches long and big enough to go down to the sea on his own.

Very few salmon live more than 10 years or spawn more than three or four times. Often they attain 80 pounds weight, but this is not because they are necessarily old; they have merely spent several years in the sea without spawning.

As in trees, salmon reveal their life history in their concentric rings. These lines of growth are located close together on the central part of the scale formed during life in fresh water. The more rapid growth in the sea is marked by more rings farther apart.

The American outlay for music and voice instruction during 1937 totaled $100,000,000.

New Methods of Treating Pneumonia Saves Thousands of Lives

The pneumonia season is before us. Today physicians confront the disease with far more confidence than ever before in the history of medicine. The attack on pneumonia was once limited to rest in bed, support of the heart, and the use of a few remedies for securing rest. Today the attack is scientific and thousands of lives are saved by new methods.

In the old days it was said that nursing was the most important part of care in pneumonia. Today the remedies used include oxygen, special serums which have been developed for various forms of pneumonia germs, and chemical remedies which in some instances are specific for certain forms of the pneumonia germ.

The number of types of pneumonia include at least 28 due to different forms of the pneumonia germ, as well as pneumonia caused by other organisms. In general, one out of every four people with pneumonia dies of the disease. It is high on the list of the causes of death.

When pneumonia develops, the chief symptoms include fever, rapid breathing, pain in the chest, and the expectoration of material which is tinged with blood. Usually the person who has pneumonia has been exhausted from overwork and exposure or is perhaps recovering from some illness which tend to place great strain on the body. The usual illnesses to precede pneumonia are the common cold, influenza, measles, bronchitis or some similar condition.

Any of the symptoms or combinations of these symptoms that develop do not necessarily mean pneumonia. The doctor determines the presence of pneumonia by an examination of the lungs in order to find out whether there are any signs of consolidation of the tissue. Such consolidation resulting from the pouring in of material into the spaces of the lung is a typical condition in pneumonia.

One of the most scientific and modern procedures is examination of the sputum in order to determine whether or not pneumonia germs are present and if they are present, the type of germ that is responsible. After the type of the germ is recognized, it becomes possible for the doctor to give a specific serum which is directed against that type. Serums are not yet available for every type and are not equally efficient in all of them.

In New York state serum is furnished to physicians by the Health Department for types 1, 2 and 5 in cases in which the patient is unable to provide himself with the necessary serum.

The author of "Under Two Flags," Ouida, wrote all her novels with quill pens and threw each page on the floor as it was finished. When a sufficient pile of paper had accumulated, she would pick it up and put it in order.

TH

CAVERRETTA TO BE AT FIRST FOR CUBS

CHICAGO, Dec. 14.—Phil Cavarretta, a veteran of the big leagues at 21, will be at first base regularly for the Chicago Cubs in 1939 unless Manager Gabby Hartnett changes his mind.

Cavarretta, a fancy fielder and fair hitter, alternated between bench-riding and the outfield last season while 33-year-old Rip Collins handled first base.

Hartnett, in saying that Cavarretta would get the first base spot, was silent on his plans for Collins, who hit .267 and batted in 63 runs in 143 games last summer. Playing 91 games in the garden, Cavarretta hit .240 and drove home 27 scores.

Hartnett admitted he wanted to obtain Johnny Mize, the St. Louis Cards hard-hitting first baseman, but said the price was too high.

Cavarretta came to the Cubs in 1934 after less than one season in the minors. He was the club's regular first baseman in 1935 and 1936, batting .275 the first year and two points less in 1936.

BENGALS LOSE TO
TIPTON 16 TO 10

The Smith-Cotton Tigers lost to the Tipton basketball team, at Tipton by a score of 16 to 10 Tuesday night. The Tigers were ahead at the half but were unable to hold their lead as the Tipton men began to hit the bucket.

There were a number of fouls that cost Sedalia several of their players in the closing minutes of the game. The two Michaels, Bud and Connie and Quinton Studer went out on personals.

The starting lineup for the Tigers was Roscoe Carver and Quinton Studer, guards, Connie and Bud Michaels, forwards, and Cliff Logan, center. Other players making the trip were: Kenneth Meints, Melvin Winrod, James Gardener, Paul Lingle and Jimmy Myers.

SEDALIA BOXERS
TO BE IN BOUTS
AT SPRINGFIELD

"Action There December 21 Put Them In Trim For Algoa Team"

Sedalia's amateur boxers have received an invitation to fight on one of the trial bouts at Springfield Wednesday night, December 21, from J. O. Gideon, promoter for the American Legion of the Golden Gloves in the Springfield area.

The local team has not been selected as yet by Coach Lawrence N. Englund, pending the turnout at the workouts the next few days at the fire station.

The fact there are two fights, one at Springfield on Wednesday and back home on Friday will give more boxers opportunity to get into action. The team asked for by Gideon is an eight-man affair, and Coach Englund in checking his rosters feels that he can give Springfield plenty of action and return home and rest a day and give the team from Algoa Farms a good beating.

The Sedalia school board at its meeting Tuesday night after hearing a talk on the need of training quarters for the colored amateur boxers, granted permission for the boys to workout at the Lincoln high school.

However, the board reserved conditions governing the workout quarters and under no circumstances will anyone be permitted in the building to watch the boxers other than those boys who have signed for amateur boxing, and full supervision over these rules has been left to Prof. C. C. Hubbard, and Lawrence N. Englund, coach and trainer of the local boxers.

By having quarters for the colored boxers this will give ample room for the white boys at the fire station and results will be that Sedalia will have some outstanding boxers to be in the tournament this year.

TEAM OF WEST IS SELECTED FOR CHARITY GAME

Twentytwo Players From Fourteen Colleges To Participate

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 14.—(P)—Completion of the west's football team for the 14th annual East-West charity game to be played in San Francisco on January 2, was announced today.

Officials of the Shrine charity event said 22 players from 14 west-of-the-Mississippi colleges had agreed to play under western colors. The players receive only their traveling expenses.

Proceeds from the annual clash go principally to the Shrine hospital for crippled children in San Francisco.

The West lineup was announced as: Ends — Joe Wendlick, Oregon State; Charley Heilman, Iowa State; Jim Coughlan, Santa Clara; Sam Boyde, Baylor.

Guards — Prescott Hutchins, Oregon State; Art Means, University of Washington; Ed Bock, Iowa State; Jack Rhodes, University of Texas.

Tackles — Al Wolff, Santa Clara; Blas Miatovich, University of San Francisco; Dick Trzuskowski, Idaho; Dick Farman, Washington State.

Centers — Tony Calvelli, Stanford; Charley Brock, Nebraska. Halfbacks — James Johnston, University of Washington; Vic Bottari, University of California; Al Braga, University of San Francisco; Billy Patterson, Baylor.

Fullbacks — Bill Paulman, Stanford; Dave Anderson, University of California; Pug Manders, Drake; Walt Nielson, University of Arizona.

The players will report in San Francisco December 21 and start training at nearby Palo Alto the next day.

SINGER-FIGHTER TO WED ACTRESS

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 14.—(P)—The Irish Thrush, a heavyweight singer-fighter known as Jack Doyle, chirped happily today over plans to get married, win the British boxing championship, and settle down in Hollywood.

A little matter with the U. S. department of labor, concerning Doyle's alleged illegal entry into this country a few weeks ago, has yet to be straightened out.

But he was confident he could convince Uncle Sam he was a desirable candidate for citizenship under the Irish quota.

The girl of Doyle's dreams, at the moment, is dark-tressed Movita, Arizona-born film actress of Mexican descent.

Movita, whom you may remember having seen in "Mutiny On The Bounty," met the Thrush at a party two months ago and yesterday announced she would become his bride.

If he is forced to leave the country, he said, they will be married on his return. Otherwise the wedding will take place shortly in Hollywood.

At any rate, Doyle hopes to make some money after his deportation, if and when. He said he had a match arranged with Eddie Phillips and the winner would take on the British heavyweight champion, Len Harvey.

When he isn't fighting in London, he will be studying singing in Milan, he said. And when he comes back to the United States, he will embark on a motion picture career.

Doyle's first marital adventure with Actress Judith Allen ended in a divorce. Later, she sued Mrs. Delphine Dodge Godde, a wealthy easterner, for loss of the Thrush's love. The suit was dropped.

FEW SIDELIGHTS ON MEETING OF
MAJOR LEAGUES

Facts and Fancies As They Develop In Gathering In New York

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—Facts and fancies from the major league baseball gatherings.

The facts: The Brooklyn Dodgers and the Boston Bees made two deals. In the first Buddy Hassett, fire baseman, and Jim Outlaw, an outfielder with Syracuse last year, went to Boston in exchange for Gene Moore, outfielder, and Pitcher Ira Hutchinson. The Dodgers got Outlaw from the St. Louis Cardinals for cash and Pitcher Lew Krausse rookie from Elmira. In the second the Bees sent Third Baseman Joe Stripp to the Dodgers in exchange for Fred Frankhouse, a veteran, righthanded pitcher.

The National league met and voted to increase the player limit from 23 to 25 active players and to retain the "dead ball" in play last season. It turned down the New York Yankees scheme of paying players from the start of training and discussed the yellow ball which is supposed to aid batters when hitting against white backgrounds.

The American league discussed radio broadcasting of games and decided to leave it up to individual members of the league. It also debated night baseball and prepared a rule governing night ball which will be presented to the owners today. The league failed to vote on a ball for 1939 but seemed favorable to the adoption of a uniform ball.

Will Harridge was re-elected president of the American league. Connie Mack, manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, was appointed manager of the American league's all star team for the inter-league game in 1939.

The fancies: The Cleveland Indians and Detroit Tigers still have a deal on the fire involving Odell Hale, an Indian third baseman, and outfielder Pete Fox of Detroit.

Football Gains The Next Three Places From Sports Writers

(Note this is the third of a series analyzing results of the eighth annual Associated Press sports poll. It deals with the results of the nation's port editors to the query: Which was the year's outstanding team, any sport, amateur or professional?)

By HERBERT W. BARKER NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—(P)—By a margin as decisive as their American league and world series triumphs, the New York Yankees were named today as the outstanding sports team for 1938.

Joe McCarthy's bombers, who created a new all-time record by whipping the Chicago Cubs four games to none for their third successive world baseball championship, were named at the top of the heap by 61 of the 67 sports editors participating in the eighth annual Associated Press poll.

Three other sports editors picked the Yankees for the No. 2 spot and three for No. 3, thus giving the baseball titleholders a total of 192 points out of a possible 201.

Points were awarded on the basis of three for No. 1 ranking, two for No. 2 and one for No. 3.

Football gained the next three places with Texas Christian's unbeaten Horned Frogs as runner-up to the Yankees with 45 points.

All told 24 teams in 11 sports figured in the balloting with football far out in front with eight.

Summary of the vote: New York Yankees, baseball: First 61; total points 192. Texas Christian, football: First 2; total

THINK ABOUT SAFETY BEFORE-NOT AFTER YOU BUY A LOW PRICED CAR

WE BLEW A FRONT TIRE AND TUBE AT 60!

But, in a public test, the new Hudson 112 stayed straight on its course—safely (without using special tires, tubes or equipment)!

Why? Thanks to AUTO-POISE CONTROL—a revolutionary mechanical safety invention that keeps wheels on their true course automatically—on rough roads, in heavy side winds, even when a tire blows. NO OTHER CAR HAS ANYTHING LIKE IT. Auto-Poise is standard, at no extra cost, on the new Hudson 112—one of America's lowest priced cars.

WE DISCONNECTED HYDRAULICS AT 40!

In the same public test, hydraulic brakes were suddenly disconnected, but the driver just pushed the same foot pedal and the new Hudson 112 STOPPED—safely!

Why? Thanks to Hudson's exclusive DOUBLE-SAFE BRAKES—two braking systems (finest Bendix Hydraulics and a mechanical reserve system) working automatically from the same foot pedal. Many letters in our files tell of lives saved by Double-Safe Brakes—in all 1939 Hudsons.
